

Arab art goes on show in London's Cromwell Place | Arab News

Arab News ✓
85.6K subscribers

Subscribe

6

Share

Save

135 views 5 days ago

London's arts hub Cromwell Place played host to a pop-up show on modern and contemporary Lebanese art. Originally designed in 1858, the venue is a notable site, made up of former Georgian townhouses that have been converted into fourteen art spaces. Its classical white walls were enlivened by the contrasting eclectic colors and shapes of the displayed artworks.

Show more

15 Comments

Sort by