The topics we covered—from the Keynote speech on how UAE is Building a Sustainable Future for AI in Healthcare by H.E Dr. Amin Al Amiri - Asst. Undersecretary of Public Health, Policy & Licensing Sector, UAE Ministry of Health & Prevention, to the amazing case study on value based care and the struggles to implement such platform, to How AI & Machine Learning are Revolutionizing Drug Manufacturing & Transforming Clinical Decision Making Process, to how Financial Sustainability is affecting Hospital Management, EHRC, & Revenue Cycle Management in Healthcare, to The Intersection of Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM), Patient Engagement, & Artificial Intelligence (AI), to The Association between Patient-Centered Care & Health care Outcomes in Inpatients, to AI-driven diagnostics and personalized treatment pathways to enhancing operational efficiency and addressing health equity—are not just theoretical discussions; they are the urgent building blocks of a better healthcare system.

To all speakers, thank you for making an indelible impact. Your willingness to share deep technical knowledge, practical case studies, and passionate visions was truly inspiring. Your insights and collaborative spirit, particularly during the networking sessions, ensured that we moved closer to turning technological potential into tangible, positive patient outcomes.

To our valued Sponsors, your critical support and commitment to innovation are what make the 8th HDC possible. Thank you for showcasing the cutting-edge solutions that are transforming complex challenges into actionable strategies. The opportunity you provided attendees to experience and learn about your technologies will undoubtedly accelerate the adoption of these life-changing tools in clinics and hospitals worldwide.

To all delegates who attended, your presence, insightful questions, and readiness to collaborate were the true drivers of the event's success. We want to give special recognition to those who committed their valuable time to the crucial one-on-one meetings with our sponsors. These dedicated discussions are vital, as they immediately connect the critical needs of healthcare with the innovative solutions designed to meet them, accelerating real-world progress.

Finally, we must extend profound gratitude to Agora's team and organizers. You worked constantly and tirelessly behind the scenes to shape every detail of the 8th HDC, ensuring we delivered a seamless and truly unforgettable journey for every participant. Your dedication is the engine that drives this event, and I am deeply thankful for your commitment.

As the Managing Director and Producer of the 8th HDC, I want to personally share how rewarding and inspiring the journey of preparing this event with all of you was. I sincerely apologize that, due to an unforeseen personal matter at the last minute, I was unable to be physically present at the event. While I deeply regret missing the opportunity to connect with you in person, I was continually updated on the immense energy and success of the day, and I am incredibly proud of what we achieved together.

Thank you again.

It's the conference season (knowledge adding season).

I would like to extend my thanks to AgoraGroup for a well organized event.

Thank you for all the participants. The panel session discussion was around those questions:

- AI and Machine Learning role on CDS and Drug Discovery

- AI is accelerating molecule discovery and optimizing manufacturing. How do we ensure these advances translate seamlessly into clinical decision-making without creating a gap between the lab and the bedside?
- What changes in regulatory frameworks are most urgently needed to support AI-driven drug manufacturing and AI-augmented clinical decision tools?

If you know me, you'll know that I love the opportunity to meet new people, learn and network... yesterday was just that!

I attended the Healthcare Disrupters Congress which had a particular focus on #AI powered patient outcomes. There were some interesting discussions throughout the day but the following were of particular interest:

📍 HE Dr. Amin Hussain Alameeri's keynote on "Advancing healthcare excellence in the #UAE and building a sustainable future for AI in healthcare" focused on the current trends and future advancements within the region. I especially appreciated his insights into the UAE's evolving healthcare ecosystem and the broader global direction of healthcare services.

📍 In the panel discussion on the "Association between patient-centered care and healthcare outcomes in inpatients", panelist discussed the use of #AI within mental healthcare, sharing insights of what works well and notes of caution. I particularly loved Dr. Nahida Nayaz Ahmed's analogy of AI being like fast food [in the context of therapy] 🍔🍷

I had an opportunity to join Dr. Mohammad Al-Ubaydli, Aditya Tallapragada, Scott Armstrong, and Dr. Dr. Vedrana Madina at the 8th Healthcare Disrupters Congress for a thought-provoking panel discussion on 23rd September 2025 in Dubai.

Dr. Al-Ubaydli skillfully moderated an engaging panel on the role of #AI in mental health care, exploring both its promises and pitfalls.

While #AI holds great potential as a decision support tool and is improving patient navigation and access to the right care, I am an advocate for the need for cautious optimism. Responsible integration with ethical safeguards, and a human-centered approach are essential to ensure technology empowers care rather than replaces compassion.

Together, discussions like these bring us closer to shaping a healthcare future that is innovative, compassionate, and equitable.
