

TecDoc Data Package

The perfect opportunity for spare parts dealers to use the standardised TecDoc Catalogue data

TecAlliance is distinguished not only by its extensive and internationally well-known database for vehicles and replacement parts, but also by its innovative technologies to deliver TecDoc Catalogue data individually according to customer requirements. Each combination of data can be purchased in a special set and used for integration in a product catalogue or internal data comparison.

Why TecDoc Data Package?

- The world's largest vehicle database with approximately 110,000 unique vehicle types (also available individually as Reference Data Package)
- 6,300,000 standardised product descriptions and numerous images in 35 languages
- The requested data is available for download from the FTP server in TAF 2.4 format
- Product information of major spare parts manufacturers available
- Fast customer service thanks to reliable parts identification
- Monthly data update
- The extensive TecDoc Catalogue data can be used for own catalogue solutions or data analysis
