

Offer for Building Independent Aftermarket Open Catalogue for ACMA members

Catalogue

This will be a standard catalogue conforming to international TecDoc cataloguing standards. This will be a hosted web catalogue on cloud with full security and functionalities such as multiple search options, multiple view options, ability to integrate this with PoS systems for inventory management, order to invoice processing, comparative views etc.

The catalogue will be distributed on web only. TecAlliance will not publish this in any other storage media such as CD or DVD primarily due to security and copy right violation concerns that is widely perceived as risk in India and few other parts of the world.
