

Scanning and digitisation

How to eliminate invoice scanning

The future of transactions is digital. So why depend on paper or PDF formats? That's why we've created an invoice scanning solution - aiming at eliminating scanning.

The problem is not optical character recognition technology (OCR), it's the format. Paper and PDF invoices are endless sources of headache for organisations of all sizes. Even the most capable scanning hardware, with top-of-the-line resolution and sophisticated OCR, fails regularly while interpreting your invoice information. The consequence is lots of manual work and wasted time. And a troubling cause of incorrect book-keeping. Qvalia offers a solution.

Solutions

SCANNING

Scan – and get rid of scanning

The answer to your scanning problems is not more technology. It's getting rid of outdated formats.

Qvalia makes invoice management for your organisation truly digital. We'll digitise your transactions, no matter which format your suppliers use – and create a strong incentive for your suppliers to adopt e-invoices, for free.

HEADER AND PRICE VALIDATION

Erroneous invoices? Not your problem

Every time the scanning process fails, it becomes your problem. But it shouldn't end up on your desk.

With Qvalia's scanning solution, invoices that fail the OCR process are bounced back to your supplier immediately. Qvalia becomes a firewall to protect your organisation against wasting more time on erroneous invoices.

DIGITISATION

Everything gets digitised

In a digital world, what is your most important resource? We believe that it is your data. Qvalia digitises every transaction, allowing invoice information to become business-critical data.

Qvalia's transaction automation platform enables you to bring your organisation to the next level of automation and spend analytics with our complete suite of solutions.

How it works
